

Nàkwät'à Kù Rental Agreement KWÄNLIN DÜN CITIZEN AND CULTURAL EVENT FORM

MISSION STATEMENT

Nàkwät'à Kù is an important asset of the Kwanlin Dün First Nation. It holds a prominent place in the community and represents a commitment to the Nation to return to the traditional laws and cultural practices. Kwanlin Dün heritage is recognized through the display and promotion of arts and culture. Nàkwät'à Kù hosts many events and community functions in a manner that promotes and represents community pride and ownership.

AGREEMENT

The renter agrees that the Kwanlin Dün First Nation shall not be held liable for any injury or damage to the renter or participants at the event while using Nàkwät'à Kù facilities. The Kwanlin Dün First Nation shall not be held liable for damage caused to food or supplies being stored at the facility.

The renter agrees to perform all tasks outlined on the attached sheets. If using the kitchen, the renter agrees to bring their own cooking utensils, pots and pans. If using cooking vessels or utensils belonging to Kwanlin Dün, the renter agrees to wash and return pots, pans and utensils to their storage area. The renter agrees to pay for the replacement of any items that have been removed from the facility. The applicant agrees not to use food in the freezer that does not belong to them.

The use of alcohol and drugs is strictly prohibited both inside Nàkwät'à Kù and on the grounds of the facility including the fire pit and the parking lot.

*The death of a Kwanlin Dün citizen takes precedence over all other events booked at Nàkwät'à Kù. The renter will be notified of a cancellation and refunded the damage deposit and any rental fees already paid for use of the hall.
