4.2 Operations of the Tágà Kwädän Tth'än K'è and Marsh Lake Gravesites

The purpose of the policy is to ensure the Tágà Kwädän Tth'än K'è and Marsh Lake community cemeteries are operated in an efficient manner and in keeping with Kwanlin Dün First Nation's traditional customs and burial protocols.

Burial Sites and Plot Reservation

1. The two cemeteries in this section will be primarily used by Kwanlin Dün citizens, their spouses and members of their immediate families who fit the definition of "traditional ties" in section two of the policy and who wish to have their remains or ashes laid to rest in one of the two Kwanlin Dün First Nation community cemeteries.
2. A spouse does not necessarily have to be a Kwanlin Dün citizen but can be a spouse from another First Nation or a non-First Nation spouse who fit the definition of "traditional ties" and, as a matter of protocol and respect, after the family of the deceased has been given permission from the Elder on the Council and the Chief.
3. When a Kwanlin Dün citizen or his or her spouse passes away, a plot is selected for his or her burial. An additional plot may be reserved at that time for the surviving spouse.
4. In cases where a child under the age of 19 is buried in one of the two cemeteries, the parents may reserve two plots beside the child.

Access to the Cemeteries

The entrances to the cemeteries are gated and locked. The family coordinator or designated person will obtain a key to the gate from the Community Services Administrative Assistant. A $25 deposit is required to obtain the cemetery gate key and will be refunded when the key is returned. Deposit for key can be combined with deposit for key to Potlatch House. The coordinator/designated person will be responsible for ensuring the gate is closed and locked whenever the user has left the area, even for a short period of time. Keys must be promptly returned to Community Services after the burial.

Information is shared by Community Services (allocation of plots), Lands and Resources (mapping of the burial sites) and the Executive Council Office (the Citizenship Registrar who updates the AIS database and archives the information received).
2. The Community Services Administrative Assistant will work with the family coordinator or designated person to collect a memorial pamphlet, a copy of the death certificate, and any other relevant information the family would like to provide to the registry and passes this information on to the Citizenship Registrar.
3. Community Services and the Lands and Resources GIS Analyst will work together to ensure that the maps of the cemeteries are updated annually. Copies of the updated maps will be provided to the Community Services Administrative Assistant and the Citizenship Registrar.

4.3 Maintenance for all Kwanlin Dün First Nation Community Cemeteries

The Manager of Capital Projects will oversee the maintenance of the Kwanlin Dün First Nation community cemeteries which includes the following:

- (a) ensuring proper signage that identify the name and dates of birth and death of the person (if not kept in the burial registry, the Kwanlin Dün First Nation will work with the families of the deceased to obtain this information);
- (b) working with Human Resources to hire work crews to provide maintenance;
- (c) grubbing (cutting brush, digging out root systems and removing stumps);
- (d) creating and maintaining accessible pathways;
- (e) carrying out repairs; and

During the winter months, Community Services will maintain the access roads to the cemeteries and ensure that they are ploughed when needed. Damage or vandalism will be reported to the Director of Community Services.
